

CONSUMERS' TURN AT LAST

Retailers Cutting the Prices of Foodstuffs

MOVEMENT NOT VIOLENT

But, Nevertheless, It Is Significant. Congress Takes up Cost of Living Problem.

New York, Jan. 28.—Retail dealers who have held out against the agitation for cheaper meat felt the pinch of the situation yesterday, and many of them lowered prices. Thus, recent reductions in the wholesale rates began to benefit the consumer, but the demand failed to pick up much and every evidence was given that many persons were either eating no meat at all or much less than in normal times. Other commodities continued to decline under the combined influence of the agitation and increasing supplies due to seasonal reasons.

Meanwhile official attention turned more searchingly upon the cold storage warehouses, declared by some investigators to be responsible in large part for sustained high prices of meat and other perishable food products. Under the direction of Health Commissioner Lederer, a thorough inspection of the cold storage plants was begun yesterday. The commissioner declared that there were evils to be remedied and that he meant to search them out and apply a cure.

"It certainly is wrong to permit foodstuffs to remain for an unlimited period in cold storage," said the commissioner. "It also seems to me that the law should provide for the marking of food removed from cold storage, so that the consumer might know just how old is the meat, eggs or fish he is buying."

Grand jury inquiry into the so-called milk trust was continued yesterday.

FREE LIST FOR FOODS.

Representative Wants Them to Pay No Duty on Being Imported.

Washington, Jan. 28.—Representative Sabath, Democratic, of Illinois, believes that the way to lower prices of foodstuffs is to place them on the free list for importation from foreign countries. He has introduced a bill to bring this about. His bill would place on the free list articles such as sugar, flour, eggs, vegetables, fish, live stock and meats of all kinds.

The ways and means committee will have consideration of Mr. Sabath's bill, and measures affecting the tariff laws are not being reported with special rapidity from that committee just now.

NINE-CENT MILK A "NECESSITY."

New York Farmers Complain at Agitation for Lower Prices.

New York, Jan. 28.—"Eight-cent milk is a thing of the past, and if New York City wants to get good milk, especially during the winter months, it must pay nine cents for it," said B. A. Capron, a

Are Microbes in Your Scalp?

It Has Been Proved That Microbes Cause Baldness.

Professor Unna of Hamburg, Germany, and Dr. Schourand, the leading French dermatologist, discovered that a microbe causes baldness. Their theory has time and again been amply verified through research experiments carried on under the observation of eminent scientists. This microbe lodges in the sebaceous glands, the natural hair oil, and when permitted to flourish it destroys the hair follicles and in time the pores entirely close, and the scalp gradually takes on a shiny appearance. When this happens there is no hope of the growth of hair being revived.

Dandruff is a contagious disease, which is largely due to a destructive microbe, which when left to pursue its course causes itching scalp, falling hair and baldness. Dandruff is caused by the microbe affecting the glands which produce the sebaceous matter, which latter then unhealthily dries up and scales off.

We have a remedy which will, we honestly believe, remove dandruff, exterminate the microbe, promote good circulation in the scalp and around the hair roots, tighten and revitalize the hair roots and overcome baldness, so long as there is any life left in the hair roots.

We back up this statement with our own personal guarantee that this remedy, called Rosall "93" Hair Tonic, will be supplied free of all cost to the user, if it fails to do as we state.

It will frequently restore gray and faded hair to its original color, providing loss of color has been caused by disease, yet it is no sense a dye. Rosall "93" Hair Tonic accomplishes these results by making every hair root, follicle and pigment gland strong and active, and by stimulating a natural flow of coloring pigment throughout the hair cells.

Rosall "93" Hair Tonic is entirely free from grease or sediment, is exceedingly pleasant to use and will not gum the hair or permanently soil the clothing or pillow.

We exact no obligations or promises—we simply ask you to give it a thorough trial and if not satisfied tell us and we will refund the money you paid us for it. Two sizes, prices 50 cents and $1.00. Remember, you can obtain it in Barré only at our store—The Rosall Store, Red Cross Pharmacy, Burt H. Wells, proprietor.

Pork Drops in Retail Price.

Cleveland, O., Jan. 28.—Another drop of 10 to 15 cents per 100 pounds for live stock is quoted in the local stockyard market. Pork loin has fallen off a cent on the retail price.

BOSTON IN THE GAME.

Anti-meat Crusade Will Actually Begin Next Sunday.

Boston, Jan. 28.—It is expected that thousands of persons in this vicinity will have entered earnestly into a crusade against the high prices of meat by Sunday, January 30. The Boston consumers' protest committee, in a statement issued Wednesday night, recommends that the public abstain from meat for a period of two weeks, beginning next Sunday.

The facts are pointed out that the Boston market is flooded with fresh fish, the price of which has dropped considerably in the past week, and that meat is not a necessity. In some places petitions are being circulated, urging the need of public abstention from all high-priced foods.

ELLIS IN "BEEF TRUST" INQUIRY.

Will Now Present the Case Before the Grand Jury.

Chicago, Jan. 28.—Assistant Attorney General Wade Ellis arrived here yesterday to take charge of the federal grand jury's investigation into the methods of the so-called "beef trust."

Shortly after his arrival, Mr. Ellis went into conference with United States District Attorney Edwin W. Sims, and James H. Wilkinson, his assistant.

The grand jury did not convene until the close of this conference.

CASE FALLS FLAT.

Murder Charge Against Hall Will Hardly Stand.

Rochester, N. Y., Jan. 28.—James Hall, who confessed to the murder of Anna Schumacher, was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Saxter at Charlotte, Monroe county, yesterday. The murder case against him has fallen flat. After his arrival from Portsmouth, a farmer for whom he worked on the day of the murder established an alibi for him.

Formal charges of murder and assault were made against Hall yesterday and the hearing was put over to Saturday. The authorities hope by that time to induce the federal authorities to start proceedings to prosecute Hall for confessing to the murder, thus fraudulently obtaining his dishonorable discharge from the United States navy.

It is now thought that the murder charge will not be pressed further.

ANOTHER TAX CASE ADVANCED.

Federal Judge at Toledo Decides Corporation Assessment Is Legal.

Toledo, O., Jan. 28.—Judge R. W. Taylor, the company, said that the case sustained the constitutionality of the federal corporation tax law in a formal order dismissing the suit of a stockholder against the American Multigraph company's demurrer. This will allow the case to be taken at once to the supreme court for decision, and Attorney Richard Ingels of Cleveland, representing the company, said that the case will probably reach that tribunal this week. Judge Taylor dispensed with a hearing, because a similar action has been carried to the supreme court from Vermont.

FIRST BLOOD FOR PINCHOT

Land Decision a Blow to Ballinger

UPHOLDS THE TESTIMONY

Of Glavis Wednesday—Secretary's Conduct Open to Question—Mixed up in a Deal of Very Doubtful Propriety.

Washington, Jan. 28.—Louis D. Brandeis evidently has scored first blood in the Ballinger-Pinchot hearing, in view of the decision announced simultaneously Wednesday by Judge Hanford in the United States district court at Seattle that the lands concerning which Mr. Brandeis drew from Louis E. Glavis, his client, the testimony that Mr. Ballinger had drawn up a secret agreement concerning them were obtained from the government by fraud. These were what are known as the Wilson coal lands, in western Washington. Mr. Brandeis surprised the investigating committee by trying to prove by Glavis that Mr. Ballinger in 1901 or 1902 had drawn up an illegal agreement whereby the claimants for the lands were to turn over their property, after securing it from the government, to the Wilson Coal company. Glavis alleged also that Mr. Ballinger had prepared the deeds, but that when the case became of court record the name of Mr. Ballinger was omitted by agreement of counsel. This testimony apparently was wholly irrelevant to the present Ballinger-Pinchot controversy and was introduced to indicate that Mr. Ballinger's conduct had been of doubtful propriety long before he became land commissioner. The decision of Judge Hanford relates to the identical lands in question, and is hailed with joy by the Pinchot adherents as establishing the truth of the Glavis charges as far as they have been taken up by the committee.

GETS BACK COAL LANDS.

Government Recovers Valuable Tract of 1,024 Acres Fraudulently Entered.

Seattle, Jan. 28.—United States District Court Judge Cornelius H. Hanford decided Wednesday that title to 1,024 acres of valuable coal lands in Lewis county, claimed by P. C. Richardson and several members of the J. R. Wilson family, all of Seattle, should revert to the government. This is land referred to by L. E. Glavis in his testimony before the Ballinger-Pinchot commission.

Litigation and negotiations over these lands have been in progress for eleven years. In February, 1909, R. A. Wilson and his son, George B., filed a declaration in the northwest quarter, section 10, township 14, Lewis county, and about two years later Wilson conceived the idea of obtaining title to 1,040 acres of coal lands in that region.

Various declaratory statements were filed by other members of the Wilson family, and legal action was instituted to obtain title. Then the Wilsons sought to buy the land from the government. They interested P. C. Richardson of Seattle, who invested $8,500. The Wilsons and Richardson organized the Sterling Coal company, which paid the land office for 320 acres of the land. The Wilsons, according to sworn testimony, then organized the Wilson Coal company, leaving Richardson out. Richardson entered suit against the Sterling company for his share, but the action was dismissed in 1905 by Judge Hanford on the ground that the Sterling company was an illegal combination. The government investigated the whole case, held up the applications for title to the remainder of the 1,040 acres, and eventually entered suit for the recovery of the original 320 acres.

READY FOR POSTAL SAVINGS

Bill Nearly Completed by the Committee

THREE MEMBERS CABINET

To Control Depositories—The Measure in Some Parts Is Amended—Probably Will Be Presented to the Senate To-day.

Washington, Jan. 28.—The finishing touches on the postal savings bank bill to be reported from the Senate committee on post offices and post roads are being made by a sub-committee composed of Senators Carter, Dooliver and Owen. They expected to complete their work yesterday, and the bill will probably be reported to the Senate to-day. Slight changes of the draft of the Carter bill which is being used as a model have already been agreed upon. Sections prescribing methods for the conduct of the proposed postal banks have been eliminated and a general proposition has been adopted leaving the question of making rules to the secretary of the treasury, the postmaster general and the attorney general. These officials will constitute a board which will have the control of the postal depositories.

The most important amendment under consideration is designed to prevent a concentration of postal deposits in money centers of the East. It will provide that the postal deposits shall be distributed pro rata among such banks, local to the postal depositories, as will undertake the payment of the prescribed rate of interest. Senator Dooliver took the position that the local banks would be compelled to go to the bond centers to purchase securities necessary to entitle them to receive funds deposited with the postal banks. In order to meet this objection, the sub-committee has agreed upon an amendment providing for the acceptance of indemnity bonds as security to the government for funds received from the postal depositories.

Following Boutell, Representative Hall of Tennessee denounced Governor Hughes of New York for his attitude toward the income tax. Calder of Mississippi made a tearful appeal for more appropriations for the distribution of seeds; Heflin of Alabama denounced the Republican party; Speaker Cannon and the cotton exchange; Sisson of Mississippi went after the Taft administration, criticizing severely the order of President Taft, in which subordinate officials are prohibited from giving out information without the consent of the heads of the respective departments; Cocks of New York spoke in the interests of the farmers. He declared that he remembered the time when they got 15 cents a bushel for corn and had mortgages on their farms. Under the beneficent influences of Republican politics, Cocks said, farmers are now prosperous. Moss of Indiana criticized the present method of distribution of government seeds and finally the agricultural bill went over without action.

DEFENDS THE PAYNE TARIFF

Boutell Replies to Attacks on Measure

DECLARES TAFT'S PRAISE

Of the Law Is Justified—Says President Will Again Be Elected—Offers Both Sides of the House a Cause for Laughter.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 28.—Yesterday was a day of speech-making in the House. The agricultural bill was up for consideration, but under the lax rules governing general debate this measure was rarely mentioned.

Admitting that the Payne tariff law would have to be justified by the results of its practical operation, Representative Boutell of Illinois, a member of the committee which framed the measure, made a vigorous defense of the new law yesterday. President Taft had been criticized, he said, because "he had declared the Payne act was the best tariff law ever passed by Congress. But, he added, the result would justify that statement. "The common sense and sagacity of President Taft will be recognized by his reelection in 1912." "It has been said," continued Mr. Boutell, "that that act gives preference to certain individuals and is because of the present high prices. It has been claimed that the tariff act has not brought prosperity and that it will retard prosperity." When the Democrats applauded these statements and laughed in derision, Mr. Boutell sharply rebuked them. "Why is it?" he asked, "that the Democrats always applaud any tale of misfortune or prediction of adversity?" It was then the turn of the Republicans to laugh and applaud, and the Democrats lapsed into silence. "I think," said Mr. Boutell, answering his own question, "it is because adversity is so familiar and so in keeping with the history of their party. It is not indicative of approbation, but the result of party loyalty."

Following Boutell, Representative Hall of Tennessee denounced Governor Hughes of New York for his attitude toward the income tax. Calder of Mississippi made a tearful appeal for more appropriations for the distribution of seeds; Heflin of Alabama denounced the Republican party; Speaker Cannon and the cotton exchange; Sisson of Mississippi went after the Taft administration, criticizing severely the order of President Taft, in which subordinate officials are prohibited from giving out information without the consent of the heads of the respective departments; Cocks of New York spoke in the interests of the farmers. #### TRADE BOARD ENDS SESSIONS.

One Delegate Accuses Others of Neglecting to Attend to Duties.

Washington, Jan. 28.—After inducing sweeping amendments to the Sherman anti-trust law so radical in character as to alter its present effect very largely, and placing itself on record as unalterably opposed to the federal inspection of grain, the national board of trade ended its fortieth annual meeting yesterday.

Amendments to the immigration law to eliminate the educational test were unanimously approved, and a proposal to have the United States negotiate with other nations for the creation of an international court of arbitral justice was endorsed.

The session ended in a wrangle when C. Reynolds of Scranton, Pa., charged upon the floor that delegates sent by their home chambers of commerce and boards of trade to attend the meetings of the national board, came to Washington and spent their time elsewhere.

Seattle, Wash., Jan. 28.—According to Prof. J. E. "I notice a peculiar feature of the comet's tail," said the professor Wednesday night. "It was not as continuous as such tails usually are. This is to be attributed to certain electrical disturbances, which have been noted in comets just before they split."
